A photograph of a resort poolside area. In the foreground, there is a clear, turquoise swimming pool with a sandy beach area. A wooden deck with a metal railing runs along the pool. On the deck, there are several lounge chairs and large, light-colored patio umbrellas. In the background, there are many tall palm trees and other lush greenery. A large, ornate building with a red roof and white facade is visible in the distance, partially obscured by the trees. The sky is clear and blue.
